End Child Marriages
6th January 2015

Global A World At School (AWAS) and A World at School for Education (AWASE)

Pakistani girls and boys are forced into marriage at a young age. A group of people have come together to raise awareness about this issue. The group includes Global A World At School (AWAS), a coalition of corporations, and Business Coalition (GBC). The group is called the Child Marriage Coalition (CMFZ).

CMFZ (Child Marriage and Family Violence Research Center) is working to end child marriages and family violence. They are working with other organizations, such as Global A World At School (AWAS) and Business Coalition (GBC), to raise awareness about the issue and work towards finding solutions.
